

Lincoln Service and Texas Eagle Bus Service Provided Between St. Louis and Chicago

Effective October 17 through October 31, 2015

Beginning October 17 through October 31, the Texas Eagle and Lincoln Service will not operate between St. Louis and Chicago to allow Union Pacific Railroad to rebuild and expand six bridges and make other improvements to bring 110 mph speeds to the Chicago-St. Louis route.

Lincoln Service

Trains 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306 and 307 will be cancelled from October 17 through October 31. Bus service will be provided at every station for all trains except Train 300. Note: Buses may not operate at the same time as the respective trains. Contact Amtrak for bus schedules.

Texas Eagle

- Train 21/421 will detour between Chicago and St. Louis from October 17 through October 31, and will not stop at any intermediate stations. Alternate transportation will not be provided. At St. Louis, the train will resume its normal schedule to Los Angeles.
- Train 22/422 will operate as scheduled to St. Louis. Starting October 17 through October 31, the train will detour between St. Louis and Chicago, and will not stop at any intermediate stations. Passengers on Train 22/422 destined for Chicago will remain on the train. Passengers on Train 22/422 traveling to stations between St. Louis and Chicago will get off the train in St. Louis and board a bus to their destination. Note: The bus will only stop to discharge passengers.
- Trains 321 and 322 will be cancelled during this period. Passengers may make reservations on Lincoln Service bus/train services referenced above.
- Possible Delays: The Texas Eagle may encounter up to 45 minutes delay traveling through the detour.
